How the certificate works

On the initial valutation date, the starting value of the underlying is determined and based on that the barrier is defined. At the final valuation date one of the following scenarios will apply:

1. Underlying price > barrier

If the final value of the underlying is above its barrier, 100% of the nominal amount is paid out on the maturity date. This also represents the maximum amount.

2. Underlying price \leq barrier

If the final value of the underlying quotes at or below its barrier, physical delivery of shares is effected.

The fixed interest rate is paid out in any case, regardless of the performance of the underlying shares.

Physical delivery of shares

A defined number of shares is booked into the investor's securities account. The number is calculated as follows:

Number of shares = Nominal value / starting value

Usually this does not result in whole numbers. Due to the fact that shares are traded in whole numbers only, in the event of physical delivery the residual value is paid out in cash (= cash settlement) according to the market value:

Cash settlement = Fraction of the shares x final value

The certificate provides for physical delivery of shares. In the most unfavourable case, instead of a repayment of the nominal value the investor receives only the share with the worst performance delivered into the securities account.

Opportunities

- Fixed interest rate: The fixed annual interest rate (7.6% p.a.) is paid out regardless of the performance of the underlying.
- Safety buffer: Partial protection against price losses due to the initial safety buffer of 35% - barrier at 65% of the respective starting value
- Flexibility: Tradability on the secondary market, no management fees

Risks

- Limited yield opportunity: The opportunity for yields is in any case limited to the fixed interest rate. Investors do not participate in price increases of the underlying beyond its starting value.
- Barrier violation: If the barrier is touched or undercut, the investor is entirely subject to market risk, without any protective mechanism. Close to the barrier, there can be disproportionate price movements of the reverse convertible bond.
- Issuer risk / Bail-in: Certificates are not covered by the Deposit Protection Scheme. Investors are exposed to the risk that Raiffeisen Bank International AG might be unable to fulfil its payment obligations in respect of the described financial instrument such as in the event of insolvency (issuer risk) or an official directive (Bail-in). A total loss of the capital invested is possible.

Certificates are risky instruments of wealth investment. Should the price of the respective underlying instrument of a certificate develop adversely, an investor may lose part or all of his or her invested capital. Certificates react more strongly or weakly to changes of the price of the underlying instrument depending on a number of factors (e.g. volatility or correlation of the underlying instruments interest, dividends, remaining term, changes in foreign exchange rates) and do not move simultaneously with the underlying. Under certain circumstances the issuer is authorized to redeem the certificates prior to the agreed repayment date.

Issuer Risk/Creditor Participation ("bail-in"): Any payments during or at the end of the term of the certificates depend on the solvency of the issuer ("issuer risk"). Investors are therefore exposed to the risk that Raiffeisen Bank International AG might be unable to fulfil its payment obligations in respect of the described financial instrument such as in the event of insolvency ("issuer risk") or an official directive ("bail-in"). The resolution authority may also issue such an order before any insolvency proceedings if the issuer is judged to be in crisis. Under these circumstances the resolution authority has wide-ranging powers to take action (so-called "bail-in instruments"). For example, it can reduce the claims of investors in respect of the described financial instruments to zero, terminate the described financial instruments, or convert them into shares of the issuer and suspend investors' rights. More detailed further information is available at raiffeisenzettifikate.at/en/basag. A total loss of the invested capital is possible. Past performance is no reliable indicator of future results. Please refer to the Base Prospectus for additional disclosures on risks as well as further information.

The information presented does not constitute binding tax advice. Tax treatment of investments is dependent on the personal situation of the investor and may be subject to change. As regards tax treatment and impact on the investor's individual tax situation, the investor is advised to consult with a tax advisor. This report is based on the knowledge the persons preparing the document have obtained up to the date of creation. Please note that the legal situation may change due to legislative amendments, tax directives, opinions of financial authorities, jurisdiction etc.

The price of the Reverse Convertible Bond is dependent on the underlying's price. Adverse performances of the underlying may cause price fluctuations of the Reverse Convertible Bond. If the Reverse Convertible Bond is sold, there is the risk to incur a substantial loss or even a total loss of the invested capital ("market risk"). The Reverse Convertible is subject to several influencing factors and need not develop simultaneously to and in accordance with the underlying's performance. Such influencing factors include e.g. intensity of the underlying's price fluctuations (volatility), interest rates, solvency of the issuer or remaining term. If the Reverse Convertible Bond is sold prior to the end of the term, there is the risk to incur a partial or even total loss of the invested capital (price performance). Dividends and similar rights associated with the underlying are taken into account when structuring the Reverse Convertible Bond and are not poid out.
